

MEET OUR CIGN MEDICAL DIRECTOR

DR. MICHELLE SMITH

Dr. Michelle Smith is originally from Franklin, Tennessee. She went to college at Louisiana State University, medical school at Tulane University, and moved to Colorado for residency training. She completed her residency training in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the University of Colorado and her fellowship training in Pain Management at Texas Tech University. She specializes in treating pain from a multidisciplinary approach with a focus on helping people regain physical function and improve their quality of life. Dr. Smith loves the Colorado outdoors and particularly enjoys hiking and skiing with her friends and family. She is newly married to a Colorado native and is enjoying all that the great state has to offer.

Dr. Smith is committed to improving the delivery of care through collaboration of healthcare disciplines, including chiropractic, medical, physical therapy, massage and acupuncture. She is pleased to be teamed up with Applewood Chiropractic to help ensure care that is efficient and effective.
